Summary

As a current design student, Lucas Hood brings the out of the box thinking and problem solving skills instilled in him throughout his design training to any job or challenge presented to him. His early job experience has also caused him to develop communication skills that allow him to maintain a level of professionalism in even the most difficult interactions to keep interactions productive and positive.

Experience

Soccer Referee | North Texas Soccer | August 2015 - Present
Referee for games and tournaments all across the DFW area for teams ranging from U5-U19 age groups to ensure the laws of the game are followed and a fun yet safe playing environment is maintained.

Acquired Skills

- Communication with others in a calm, but stern manner even if they are presenting high emotion or stress to ensure the safety and enjoyment of the game is maintained.
- Awareness of all surroundings to determine how tight a game must be called depending on the stakes of the game, the tensions not just on the field but the sideline, as well as the situation in the game that potential fouls are occurring.

Graphic Designer | Danahy & Dunnivant | April 2015

Worked with firm partners to develop and execute a brand identity for their newly formed company including a logo system and color palette.

Acquired Skills

- Collaboration and cooperation with a client throughout the process to ensure their goals are being satisfied at each step of the process.
- Critical thinking in considering possible scenarios a graphic may be used and how it should be designed to accommodate as many scenarios as possible.
